Lots Of Laughs At Donkey Ball Game

The Antioch High School gym has never seen such basketball as will be played there next Thursday night, March 16.

Basketball is on the mind of every Antioch area citizen, as the Fighting Sequoits pile one victory on top of another. Thursday night's basketball game will provide a change of pace. The element of suspense in the game will hinge mostly on "Can he stay on the mule?"; "Will he be able to lift the ball?"; "Will he be able to get out of bed tomorrow?"

The big game is Donkey Basketball, a hard-fought match between members of the faculty at the school and members of the A-team.

Duelli's Dandy Donkeys will provide transportation about the gym floor for these hot-shot players. In addition, an outstanding half-time show will be presented, featuring Bimbo, the Bobby Soxer Trick Mule, plus two novelty Donkey races.

The roster of players on the "A" Club team is not yet known. Playing for the faculty will be Gary (Amazing) Allen; Rog (Winner) Andrews, Coach of the Year; Art (Buckets) Blecke; Jack (Bruiser) Bodin; North (Stable) Craig; Al (Dunker) Dittman; Jim (Swisher) Erdman; Norm (Handsome) Hahn; Ed (Killer) Kurek; Ward (Luke) Lear; Ken (Marvelous) Merrill; Lee (Monster) Miere; Roy (Nervous) Nelson; Bill "Rassler" Neuman; Warren (Pot Shot) Polley; Bill (Samson) Seemann and Bob (Yummy) Yonke.

Board Hires Radio Dispatcher

The Antioch Village Board Tuesday night hired a radio dispatcher for the police department. Betty Vanderkloot, Tiffany Arms, is the new part-time dispatcher.

The board approved the attendance of Edgar Simonsen, Charles Mapletorpe and Trustee Vern Barnstable at the Illinois Sewer Workers' Conference in Springfield, April 19, 20 and 21.

An election ordinance setting April 18 as the date for election of three trustees to the village board was approved. Balloting will be in the old Village hall at 875 Main Street from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The board considered the possible purchase of portable emergency oxygen tanks and an apparatus to administer mouth to mouth resuscitation for police cars. Art Meierdick, chairman of the Police Committee, said that police are often first on the scene in an emergency. The equipment might make it possible for them to preserve a life until the arrival of the Rescue Squad or a doctor, he said.

Mayor Ray Toft said that if such equipment were bought, all police should receive First Aid training to make sure they use the equipment correctly. Trustee Vern Barnstable was instructed to check with the Antioch Rescue Squad as to the best equipment.

Enter Miss Jaycee In State Pageant

The Lake Region Jaycees are sending a contestant to the Miss Illinois Pageant at Aurora this summer. Miss Diane Mlodzinski of Lake Villa will be the Jaycee entry. Diane won her title, Miss Lake Region, at the Lake Region Beauty Pageant last August.

Diane is a member of the National Honor Society, Vice-president of the Future Teachers of America, President of the Girls' Athletic Association, and a staff member of the Grant Community High School newspaper. Aided by her State High School scholarship, she hopes to enroll at Lake Forest College next September.

At the 15th annual Amateur Show held in Grant Community High School March 27th, Diane gathered in more votes than any other single act on the show giving her first place honors for single division in her modulated soprano voice. She sang "More."

Diane will appear in "The Merry Widow" to be presented in early April by the Waukegan-Lake County Philharmonic Society.

Bob Lindquist, President of the Jaycees, said they are certain that Diane will do well at the Miss Illinois Pageant and are hopeful that the present Miss Lake Region will bring home the Miss Illinois title and go on to compete in the Miss America Pageant.

The Miss Illinois Pageant will run from July 3 to July 9. It is sponsored by the Aurora Jaycees and the finals will be shown on TV.

Friday Deadline In Bridge Match

Tomorrow (Friday, March 10) is absolutely the last day, bridge fans. The last day to get in your entry for the Lions Club annual Bridge match.

The tournament starts Monday, March 13. Opponents will be drawn by lot, and pairings will be listed on a card in the window of Wilton's Electric Shop. A score board, showing winners and losers of each match, will also be in Wilton's window as the tournament progresses. Winners and pairings will also be in the Antioch News each week.

Contestants in the bridge tournament enter as a team. The complete rules of the tournament were published in the Antioch News of February 16.

Anyone who lives in Antioch, Lake Villa, Salem, or Trevor townships may enter the tournament.

The matches are played at the rate of one a week, and must be played between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. of the following Monday. Where and when each match will be played is decided by agreement of the competing teams.

Entry blanks are available at the Antioch News office or from any of the committee members: Chairman Larry Ryan, Preston Rockers, Jr., Elmer Eberman, Dr. Tossey and Dr. James Kopriva.

Scant Opposition For School Boards

Saturday, March 18, is the last date for filing petitions of nomination to the various school boards in the area. Election of school board members will be held Saturday, April 8.

Two positions will be open on the Board of Education at Antioch High School. The terms of office of William Brook and Roger Prosise, who has served as secretary of the board, end in April.

Roger Prosise has stated that he does not intend to run again. William Brook, incumbent, and William Petty, the son of Lake County Supt. of Schools, Dr. W. C. Petty, have filed petitions at Antioch High School.

At Grass Lake School, the terms of school board members Porter Larson and Charles Smith expire. No petitions have been filed as yet.

At Antioch Grade School, there will be two full three-year terms to fill, and an unexpired, 1-year term. The terms of office of Joan Toft and Oliver Hunt are expiring, and a vacancy created by the resignation of Peter Poulos leaves a 1-year opening. Petitions for the 3-year terms have been filed by Joan Toft, incumbent; Robert Yonke, teacher at Antioch High School, and Clyde Prad. So far, there are no candidates for the one-year term.

Party For Post No. 748

Antioch American Legion Post No. 748 will celebrate its 41st birthday at the Legion Hall on Ida Ave. Thursday night. All Legionnaires, their wives and members of the Auxiliary are invited to attend.

Dinner will start at 6:30 p.m., followed by a film on Viet Nam to be presented by Sergeant Samples of the U.

S. Marine Corps. Sgt. Samples recently returned from Viet Nam.

Dr. George Jensen is presenting the post with a plaque of Past Commanders and will hold a roll call. Those unable to attend have sent a letter to be read in their absence.

A card party is being planned to complete the evening of entertainment.

Street Dance Added To Jubilee Plans

Plans for Antioch's Diamond Jubilee celebration progressed at a meeting in the Rescue Squad building last Monday night.

At the close of the meeting, a date for the next meeting, Thursday, April 6, at 8 p.m. at the village hall was set.

Several organizations reported that they had not had a chance to make plans for the Jubilee at a regular meeting of their organization. They would report plans at the next meeting, they said.

Chairman William Brook

appointed chairman of five committees: John L. Horan, Parade; Gus Costoff, Finance; John Teresi, Publicity; Dr. Kopriva, Historical Research and Dr. Albert Buear, Pageant.

A sixth committee, a Clearing committee, to assign spots for booths, etc., to various organizations, was suggested, and Mr. Brook said a chairman for such a committee would be announced at the next meeting.

Frank Kuechenmeister and Vern Barnstable, representing the Antioch Fire Department, said the Fire Dept. would sponsor a free street dance to be held on Saturday, August 5. Chairman Brook said that George Jaros had offered the services of his band for the Jubilee, and would obtain a sponsor.

The Antioch Art Guild said they will plan an Art Exhibit for the Jubilee, a portion of it featuring scenes around Antioch 75 years ago.

Because of the Saturday night dance, the Jaycees will probably have their Beauty Pageant on Friday night, August 4, with the crowning of the queen Sunday at the Lions Club Barbecue.

Dale Starkey, reporting for the Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber would probably have a pet parade; would have an information booth in the down town area, and that Chamber merchants would decorate store windows in keeping with the pageant. They will also arrange, he said, to get costumes of the 1890's, which individual businesses will purchase for wear by their store personnel.

The Little League, Boy Scouts, and VFW Auxiliary reported that they planned to have booths during the Jubilee, in addition to participating in the parade.

The Palette, Masque & Lyre will write and produce a pageant dealing with the history of Antioch. In addition, they may have a play scheduled at their theatre.

The Antioch Moose will sponsor a beard contest. Governor Dick Jorgensen, who reported the Moose's plans, had his own entry already started.

In addition, Jorgensen said, the Moose will have a float and the ABC Clowns, and possibly the Jolly Jesters in the parade.

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club announced they would have a float in the parade and a booth for the Jubilee.

A representative of Oakwood Knolls subdivision said the subdivision will enter a float in the parade. Most organizations present said they planned to have parade entries.

The Rescue Squad will set up a First Aid station in the Rescue Squad building and will see that a doctor is available during the Jubilee.

Anyone having plans to report, or questions, is asked to contact Marilyn Sterbenz, secretary of the Jubilee committee, at the village hall.

Auditions At PM&L Theatre

Kenneth Smouse has announced that there will be auditions for "Oliver" at the PM&L Theatre Sunday, March 12, from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Twelve boys, age 10 to 16 years, are needed in the cast. Also two girls, age 12 to 14 years.

In addition there are several good, juicy parts for adults, Ken says.

"Oliver" will be given about the middle of July. Anyone who can't make the Sunday auditions and is interested is asked to contact Director Ken Smouse at 395-1333.

Postal Workers Plan Ahead On Viet Nam Project

Personnel at the Antioch Post Office drew up a letter last week outlining the purpose of their Kool Aid project, and their intentions for the future of the project.

Following is a letter, signed by all the postal workers, for the information of the public:

February 28, 1967
Antioch, Illinois 60002

Let it be known
An Antioch Post Office Employees service project known also as Kool-Aid or Viet Nam project began on Feb. 6, 1967.

The Antioch News did volunteer its assistance to help make this project a success through the use of its news media.

The project will be to send to all Antioch area residents serving in the Armed Forces in the Viet Nam conflict, a supply of Kool-Aid and/or such other products or items that will contribute to their welfare.

It is hoped that we will be able to send such packages to everyone on our mailing list at least once a month, and that this project shall continue for as long as any United States service man or woman from the Antioch area remains in this Viet Nam conflict.

Since this will be a community project, it has been decided that any funds remaining when the project is to be terminated shall be donated to the Antioch Rescue Squad.

The purpose of the project being to give to the Citizens of Antioch an opportunity to participate with Antioch Post Office personnel in showing that Antioch is much concerned about its men and women fighting so valiantly in Viet Nam and it is hoped by displaying such concern to them we can then counteract the confusion that is created by the draft card burners and other hate groups that are constantly trying to undermine the efforts of these United States.

Jim Brusk, Carol Swanson, Colla Hojem, Edgar R. Pratt, Edward R. McBride, Robert C. Carter, J. Durr, G. Bureau, David Runyard, Joseph Wolf, Harry J. Brehen, Howard A. Pannier, Joseph Chiffio, Clarence C. Kufalk, R. J. Dowland, C. J. Golonka, Lee McKinney, J. E. Walter.

The name of Antioch area servicemen now serving in Viet Nam should be submitted to the Post Office. They will be sent packages of Kool Aid at regular intervals, depending somewhat on available funds.

Only one new name was sent to the Post Office last week: Pfc. John C. Galanopoulos, U.S. 54808024, HHC-4th Bn., 9th Inf., APO San Francisco, Calif. 96225.

Several persons have donated to the Kool Aid project since the last list appeared in the Antioch News: They are: Pedersen Bros. Implement Co., Jim McMillen, Pearl Kapell, Mrs. R. Hart, Barnstable Dept. Store, Frank Benes, Harry Stern, Norshore Resort, Helen Dowell, Cecil Smith, George Good, Mrs. N. Heyne, and Dolly Stearns.

Harold Gaston, business manager of the Antioch News, was one of the motorists tagged for overtime parking last week, and was caught by the camera in the act of paying his fine. Patrolman Jack Davis was a busy man last week, and seemed to be writing out a ticket every time we saw him.

Implied Consent

In the search for ways to cut down the traffic fatalities on Illinois highways, the Illinois Legislature is considering an "implied consent" law. In other words, if you drive a car, you have automatically given the police permission to make tests to determine whether or not you have been drinking alcoholic liquors, and how much.

There are varying figures on how many of the drivers involved in accidents have been in various stages of intoxication. None of them have been too accurate, because such tests could not be given without the consent of the person involved.

There isn't much doubt that drinking interferes with good driving, even though many imbibers will protest otherwise. In today's heavy, speedy traffic, drivers need to be in full possession of their faculties.

Taking the drinking driver off the road won't prevent all accidents, but it will certainly save some lives. The effectiveness of the law will depend a good deal, of course, on how severely the courts deal with the drinking driver when he's caught. We hope the law passes, and that it is enforced.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Sheriff Harold Scheskie is being unusually coy about officially naming Deputy Jake Repp as his Chief Deputy even though it appears the veteran investigator has been assigned most of the jobs a Chief Deputy would normally handle.

One thing is certain. With the changes in operating procedure Sheriff Scheskie is instituting and the strange assignments he has been giving out it is apparent he is going to be the boss in the office and exercise all the prerogatives of the office.

The Sheriff may derive considerable personal and political satisfaction from making former Sheriff Charles Larson a bailiff in Magistrate Court and putting Sergeant Leo Carvis, formerly the department's Juvenile Officer, on night squad duty, but it does seem he is being vindictive at the cost of wasting considerable experience and training.

Former Treasurer Guy O. Lunn, who retired from the Treasurer's office on the induction of Raymond Sheahan in December, is finding Florida doubly enjoyable these days.

Lunn, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for Mayor of North Chicago in 1969, is enjoying Florida weather while working in the Cashier department at a Florida race track.

Waukegan Mayor Sabonian apparently lost none of his political clout in Waukegan during his unsuccessful campaign as a write-in candidate for U. S. Senator.

Elected as a Democrat with strong Republican aid and an Independent candidate in the Senate race Mayor Sabonian jumped into the Republican primaries in two Waukegan wards and succeeded in defeating the two aldermen who were strongest or at least most consistent in opposing him.

One of the deposed aldermen, Hollis Austin, will now be free to do some electioneering for his son, Lee Austin, who is seeking to oust LeRoy Fritz as Newport Township supervisor.

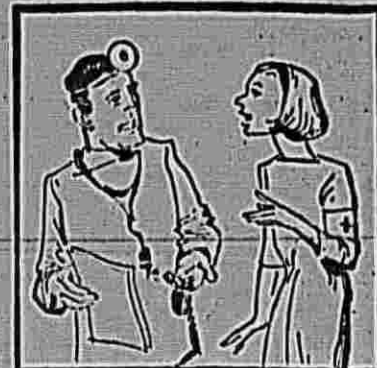

The township election in Waukegan Township presents a strange picture with one full slate of candidates headed by Supervisor August Cepon and including three Democrats, Assistant Supervisor Roland Sandee, Road Commissioner Ed Manojan, and Matthew Graber, a newcomer seeking election as Assistant Supervisor.

In addition the ballot will offer three independent candidates for a place on the County Board of Supervisors

How GI Gets Emergency Leave

The wife and children come to their Red Cross chapter and describe to the Red Cross worker the family emergency that requires the presence of her husband at home.

The Red Cross worker discusses with the wife's doctor the need for her husband's presence.

Chapter worker gets on the phone to tell the serviceman's Red Cross field director about the case. (A cablegram would be used in the case of a serviceman overseas.)

Field director and serviceman go to latter's CO who grants permission for the emergency leave.

At an airstrip, the field director bids the serviceman goodbye and wishes him well.

To the Editor
The Antioch News
Antioch, Illinois
Dear Sir:

The incredible Public Relations Manager of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company answers criticism against the use of Yugoslav tobacco in the blend of their cigarettes by stating that Yugoslavia is not a member of the communist bloc and does not aid the North Vietnamese communists. He claims they are helping the economy of Yugoslavia in order that "Tito can remain free of Soviet influence. All this talk about weaning the satellites from the mamma Bear is hogwash because at the same time parallel efforts to expand Consulates, extend trade, tourism and cultural relations with the USSR is being pushed to the limit. The claim by Mr. Public Relations Manager that Yugoslavia is not aiding North Viet Nam was exploded December 30, 1966 when Mr. Katzenbach sorrowfully told the Yugoslav Ambassador that the proposed sale of surplus food to Yugoslavia was being suspended; due to Congressional restrictions against the shipment of agricultural products to countries selling or furnishing materials to Communist North Viet Nam.

In Fidel Castro the West has the perfect illustration of the fact that aid to a communist does not change him to something else. Castro came into power with covert aid from America while at the same time the United States was denying arms and aid to Batista. Had Fidel been the hero the Cuban people hoped he was, he could have, with American aid and cooperation become one of the greats of Cuban history. The State Department knew that Castro was something different but they were hopefully wishing that he might mellow and change. When Castro visited the United States he was received with open arms but he did not mellow. With eyes on the remainder of Latin America, he returned to Cuba, told the U.S.A. to go to hell and set about to firm up his ties with the White Reds of Russia, the Yellow Reds of China, the Black Reds of Africa and even Little Red Ben-Bella.

Yours truly,

A timely message was issued by American Legion National Commander John E. Davis recently when he called for support of President Johnson's "War on Crime" message to the Congress of the United States. He emphasized that FEAR IN THE STREETS must be erased.

He also pledged that the Legion's 16,000 Posts with a total of 2 1/2 million members would support these efforts in every possible manner. The Legion is deeply disturbed with the trend toward

Punishment Deters Crime, Says Hoover

Could it be that 1967 will be remembered as the year the "American people" demanded respect for law and order and a halt to rising crime in our country?

While this hope may not fully materialize, there are some promising symptoms of growing public concern. In many areas, citizens are genuinely alarmed, and rightly so, by increasing criminal violence. Indications are that more and more people want effective enforcement of the law and realistic punishment of those who break it.

Federal, State and local governments are initiating new, and broader programs to aid law enforcement and to provide better training and equipment for the enforcement of law. Civic and patriotic groups are rallying to support police and are calling for citizens to obey the law and to help prosecute those who refuse to obey it. These are encouraging signs.

Actually the American public is seeking, and sorely needs, a proven formula to deter crime. The people are growing tired of substitutes.

Lawlessness and has launched a nation-wide program to help reverse this dangerous trend and to help revive a proper respect for the forces of Law and Order. We invite all concerned citizens to join with us in this project.

The American Legion stands in full support of the well defined "Safe Streets and Crimes Control Act" and other salient points recommended by the President. We have sloganized this campaign "For Community Peace, Support Your Police."

The problem goes beyond Police protection. Society is responsible for horrors such as the recent raping, abusing and killing of young girls. A High School Principal speaking at an American Legion Americanism Convocation recently laid the blame for civil disobedience directly on the shoulders of careless, indifferent, apathetic parents who cannot be bothered with their responsibilities.

He said, indifference of parents and the public spawns these horrors. Add indifference to crime and morals, to an out-of-date penal system, to over-crowded courts, mental institutions and slums and to the decadence of decency and you have the reasons for the dangerous problem festering our nation.

It just doesn't make sense to stand by idly and permit the criminal element and the lawless mobs to destroy the principles of our Communities, State and Nation.

This insidious crime war, created by a depraved minority of our citizens against all levels of American society must be won. And, it will be won if every citizen takes upon himself proper and legal action—supporting our harassed, besmirched, and often thwarted Police, guardians of the American Way of Life. FOR COMMUNITY PEACE... SUPPORT YOUR POLICE.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

A congressional storm has developed concerning use of federal funds by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to subsidize the activities of the National Student Association (NSA) and other private groups. The not-so-subtle practice of funneling federal monies through private "foundations" to the NSA and other groups has raised further questions.

There seems to be no doubt but that Communist propaganda is disseminated, and perhaps subversion carried on, at meetings of some youth and other organizations. There is an obvious need to counteract such activities. However, the proper method of meeting these Communist challenges is subject to the most careful inquiry.

Traditionally, governmental intelligence agencies have operated through "plants" or paid agents, who have joined organizations for the specific purpose of ascertaining confidential and valuable information. The CIA practice of providing secret financial support for organizations' internal, regional, and even international activities (with only a few members being aware of the source of the subsidy) is highly questionable. Strangely enough, the actions of the NSA as well as other groups financed with CIA funds frequently have been opposed to national policies. It is rather absurd to suggest that such opposition would, have been far greater except for its financial backing.

Many members of the Congress, who approve of such federal subsidies for the NSA and other organizations, object nevertheless that the appropriations for these purposes have not been specifically authorized by the Congress. In other words, they feel that—if federal support of attendance by students at international meetings is beneficial to the country—we should be straightforward in providing such support. Certainly, the Soviet Union and other Communist nations make no secret of their financial support of the Communist youth who participate in such meetings.

Disclosure of the receipt of CIA funds by the NSA was followed almost immediately by information that other private organizations also had

As It Happens —

By Rep. W. J. Murphy
Leave Our Guns Alone

The Bill to license and control firearms is creating quite a controversy throughout the State of Illinois. The proponents piously say that this will keep guns out of the criminals' hands, and that it will improve law enforcement. Historically all countries that eventually fell to Dictatorship also had previously passed laws that prohibited the possession of firearms. This writer believes that when our forefathers said in the Bill of Rights that citizens should have the right to possess and bear arms, that they meant just that! This writer as long as he represents the people of this district, will fight to retain this right.

Remodel the Mansion?

Rep. Paul Elward of Chicago has received applause for introducing a Bill to spend one and a half million dollars to remodel the governor's Mansion. I consider this an outright waste. The Mansion is in a disgraceful condition. The floors sag, received funds from the CIA. A serious question arises as to whether there should be federal subsidies of any private organizations, including the NSA.

About 15 years ago in Illinois, the late former Governor Adlai E. Stevenson and a Republican-controlled Illinois General Assembly abolished so-called "Christmas Tree" bills, measures by which public monies were appropriated to benefit private organizations. The resultant saving to Illinois taxpayers has been enormous, and it would seem that federal taxpayers are entitled to this same consideration.

The CIA budget is reported to be about $500 million per year. By eliminating payment to private organizations, a highly objectionable practice could be terminated and a large part of this sum could be saved.

the rafters are termite infested and add to this the fact that it is setting on a block of very valuable commercial ground surrounded with car dealers and flashing neon lights. You cannot look out of one window in the Mansion without seeing flashing signs. There is nothing historic about the Mansion—it is just plain old and decrepit.

In 1963 when this writer was Leader of the House of Representatives, I introduced and passed a Bill to build a new Mansion that would not have cost the State one dime, because we had located 10 acres out in beautiful countryside at Lake Springfield. The Mansion and the ground would have cost less than one million dollars; and the present block of ground on which the old Mansion sits would have sold for over one and a half million. The State would have actually made money on the transactions.

The Chicago newspapers ridiculed the Bill and accused me of having some kind of a swindle in mind. With the Chicago papers against it the Senate then saw fit to defeat my proposal. Since that time we have spent over one hundred thousand in maintenance and repair. Now the same Chicago papers are praising the Chicago Legislature for his proposal to spend one and a half million trying to repair this unhistoric junk heap. Well, that's how it happens and I will report it AS IT HAPPENS!

Springfield Report

By Richard Lockhart
"C-B Now" was the slogan worn by the hundreds of governmental employees who descended on the legislative hearing in Springfield last week.

If you are curious, the C-B stood for "collective bargaining" and their mission was to let the House Labor and Industry Committee know that they strongly supported House Bill 289, introduced by Representative John W. Lewis (R-Marshall).

If enacted, this bill would permit the employees of any governmental unit to bargain collectively with their employing agency.

This would apply to policemen, firemen, teachers, nurses, and all other public employees.

Clearly, every part of Illinois would be affected.

As it stands now, there is no Illinois law which either permits or prohibits collective bargaining by government employees. The Supreme Court, however, has ruled that strikes by government employees are illegal.

With this decision in mind, I believe H.B. 289 will be amended to include a "no-strike" provision, and it will pass the house and probably the Senate.

In the Senate, the emphasis seems to be on imposing penalties on those public employees who do strike.

For example, Senator Arrington (R-Evanston) has introduced a bill which would deny pension rights to any public employee who engages in a strike. Senator Arthur Gottschalk (R-Flossmoor) has introduced a proposal to outlaw pay raises for a period of two years after a strike. His bill would also permit the government agency, and any citizen to sue for damages incurred as a result of a strike.

These two bills probably will not pass, but they will insure that the "no-strike" provision will be added to the CB bill (collective bargaining).

The future of the CB bill will be shaped, perhaps, at the next committee hearing when opponents of the bill will present their views.

Within the next week or two, a special commission appointed last year, by Governor Kerner will make some recommendations on the entire matter of collective bargaining for all governmental employees.

The report of this commission will have a very significant effect on every school district, city, town, village, township, special district and county in Illinois.

(Richard Lockhart is the producer and moderator of "Your Man in Springfield," seen weekly on Tuesdays over Channel 11.

Cost Of Education Increasing

The cost of education, at the State Level, has spiraled in recent years and is increasing at such a rate that it may emerge as the number one fiscal problem of the 75th Illinois General Assembly according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. In the 70th biennium (1957-59), education appropriations totaled $473,150,160 or 20.7% of the total State appropriations of $2,285,585,553. In the present 75th biennium (1965-67), education appropriations totaled $1,281,930,499 or 28.6% of the total State appropriations of $4,479,294,455.

Based on the appropriation requests being made by various governmental agencies for the 75th biennium, the expenditures for educational purposes will continue to expand rapidly.

The Board of Higher Education, after screening requests by our institutions of higher learning, has recommended an appropriation of $1,061,801,870, an increase of $509,549,279 over the last biennium. In addition, funds totaling $912,487,547, including the increase of $134,453,247 necessary to maintain the foundation level of $330 per pupil, have been requested for the 75th biennium for elementary and secondary education. Should the proposed level of support be enacted, an additional minimum of $128,609,438 would be required, and would raise the request to $1,041,096,985 for elementary and secondary education. The total request for all educational agencies in the State would approximate $2,102,898,655. Also, there will be other bills passed by the General Assembly concerning education, that will not be sponsored by an agency, but will add to the total cost.

The total request of $2,102,898,655 already made for the 75th biennium, represents an increase of $820,998,156 or 64%. When considered in conjunction with the additional millions of dollars being requested by other State governmental agencies, the General Assembly will find it both necessary and difficult to obtain additional revenues to support the proposed increases.

Artists Value Critiques At County Art Show

Lake County artists are looking forward to the art show critiques held in connection with the Lake County Town and Country Art Show. This show, which is open to all amateur artists of Lake County, is scheduled to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28 and 29, in the Farm Bureau Building on the Lake County Fair Grounds.

Many artists value the critiques as the most important part of the county show, state Farm and Home Advisers Ray T. Nicholas and Helen Volk, Cooperative Extension Service Representatives of the University of Illinois. Critiques are planned to be held at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 28. The critiques are open to the public regardless of whether an exhibit is made in the show.

Practically all types of art are eligible for entry including paintings in various media, ceramics, wood carving, sculpturing, metal enameling, weaving, pottery, and other crafts.

Judges of the county show will select a number of outstanding entries for the District Show to be held at the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus in July.

Any amateur artist desiring rules of the show and entry blanks may obtain them by writing Farm or Home Advisers Ray T. Nicholas or Helen Volk, at P. O. Box 267 or P. O. Box 356, Lake County Fair Grounds, Grayslake, Illinois.

The Art Show will be open to the public free of charge from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. on March 28 and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on March 29.

Garden Show In Chicago March 11-19

The Garden Club of Illinois which comprises nearly 300 garden clubs in the state, has an ambitious schedule for the Chicago World Flower & Garden show which will be held in the International Amphitheatre March 11 thru March 19. Its gardens, arrangements and table settings are built around the theme, "Chicago... Past, Present - Future."

The Amphitheatre is located at 43rd and Halstead Streets, adjoining the famous Stock Yards Inn. It can be easily reached from all expressways leading into the Dan Ryan Expressway (south).

Gardens include the nostalgic "Porch of Old Chicago," a garden of yesterday blending of the past and present; "River Garden," a spot of beauty in today's inner city; and "Penthouse in the Sky," garden fashion for the future.

Arrangements will depict many notable events in "Chicago... Past" and "Chicago... Present," along with others looking into "Chicago... Future."

Imaginative interpretations of Chicago's future will center on "Color of the City," "Textures of the City," "Forms of the City," and "Lines of the City." The versatility of the exhibitors is certain to be reflected in this category.

The table settings are always a center of attraction for visitors to the show. "Chicago... Past... Present... Future" is also the theme of this category. Examples: "Prairie Breakfast," "Gracious living - 1967," and "Bon Voyage to the Moon."

A number of awards will be given for the most outstanding creations among the various exhibits.

This year's show is especially significant for the Garden Club of Illinois because it is the 40th anniversary of the federation, said Mrs. Chester Evans, president of the state-wide organization, which since 1960, has participated in the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show.

Distinctive Driver License For Minors

Issuance of newly designed driver licenses, with distinctive color combinations to distinguish licenses issued to minors from those issued to adults, has begun, Secretary of State Paul Powell has announced.

"It is our hope and belief that these new types of licenses and the safeguards against alteration will help law enforcement officers and business establishments in the proper identification of drivers," Secretary Powell said.

The licenses issued to minors are predominantly red and gold, featuring a large gold Great Seal of the State of Illinois in the center, surrounded by smaller seals in red, Mr. Powell said.

Those issued to adults are predominantly blue and green, featuring a picture of the State Capitol.

For both minors and adults, the type of license is indicated near the top of the license card. On either side of the word "Illinois," appears the designation, "Operator's License," "Chaufeur's License" or "Instruction Permit," as the case may be.

Existing licenses remain valid, and need not be exchanged for the new types, Secretary Powell said. This means, he pointed out, that under the present provisions of the Drivers License Act, it will require three years for a complete conversion to the new licenses.

Sec. Seeks To Increase Filing Fees

Springfield, Jan. 24—Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today he has legislation introduced into the General Assembly increasing certain filing fees collected by the Corporation Division of his office.

The fee increases, the first since 1920, would increase state revenue by $15 million a biennium and are intended to make the fees more representative of present day costs, Mr. Powell said. Even with these increases the Illinois fees will still be lower than in most other states, he added. No increase is called for in the franchise tax.

The measure would establish a $50 fee for filing annual reports, and would increase from $20 to $100 the fee for filing articles of incorporation of a new Illinois organization; from $20 to $50 for filing articles of amendment unless the amendments were a restatement of the articles of incorporation, when the fee would be $100; from $20 to $50 for filing articles of merger or consolidation where two corporations are involved, plus $20 for each additional corporation.

The same fee schedule and increases would apply to out-of-state corporations operating in Illinois under certificates of authority.

When the present fees were established, collections by the Corporation Division accounted for 3 per cent of state revenue, but today they represent only an infinitesimal fraction of state revenue, Secretary Powell said.

The measure was introduced into the House by Representatives Allen T. Lucas of Springfield, John P. Touhy of Chicago and Clyde L. Choate of Anna.

The Law Serves You

DRUNKEN DRIVER TEST CONSTITUTIONAL

The Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution, which guarantees that no person may be required to testify against himself in any criminal proceeding, does not prevent a person from being given a test for drunkenness.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently held that a blood specimen taken from a suspected drunken driver without his consent could be used against him as evidence.

In effect, the Supreme Court ruled that a test for blood alcohol content is a minor intrusion into the individual's body under very limited conditions, and the Fifth Amendment does not apply.

Also, as to the Fourth Amendment, which protects citizens against unreasonable search and seizure, the Court held the blood test to be reasonable; common to physical examinations and therefore, not in conflict with the Amendment.

In Illinois, the most common method of determining whether a person was driving under the influence of alcohol is the test by physical observation. Officers report their observations, including whether the driver could walk a straight line, had the smell of alcohol on his breath, a liquor bottle on his person or in his car; whether he could pick up coins off a table or speak or think clearly, and so on.

A laboratory test commonly used in Illinois is the breathalyzer test. This test measures the amount of alcohol in the body from a sample of the person's breath taken in a balloon.

Once evidence is presented in court it is up to the judge or the jury, if the defendant chooses a jury trial, to determine whether or not the driver was drunk.

Penalty for conviction in Illinois on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol includes a fine of up to $500, possible jail term and possible loss of driving privileges in the state for as long as one year.

GUARDIAN UNDER EYE OF LAW

What are the legal responsibilities of a guardian of a minor child?

Under Illinois law, there are two types of guardian—the guardian of the person of a minor child and the guardian of the minor's estate and property. They may be one and the same person.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the guardian of the estate is charged by law with the care, management and investment of the child's estate. Income and profits from the estate must be applied as authorized by the court for the comfort, support and education of the child.

The estate guardian must either be a person who resides in Illinois or a corporation qualified to accept and execute trusts in Illinois.

The person appointed guardian of the person of a minor child may be a non-resident or a resident of Illinois. This guardian is responsible for the child's personal care, welfare and upbringing.

Under the law, a guardian may be appointed for any minor—a boy under 21 years of age or a girl under 18—whose natural parents are deceased or unable, unfit or unwilling to give the child the care, comfort, education and support to which the child is entitled.

In that event, any reputable citizen of Illinois may request the Court in the county in which the child resides to appoint a guardian or guardians. After a hearing, the Court will appoint a guardian for the person of the minor and, if necessary, a guardian for the estate.

If the child is over 14 years of age, he may nominate his own guardian of the estate subject to the approval of the Court.

The guardian makes an annual report to the Court of his acts and of the income and expenses for the ward, and is liable for any waste or mismanagement of the ward's funds.

When the minor reaches 21 (or 18 for girls), the guardianship ends and the guardian reports the fact to the Court and turns all the property over to the ward.

NO RECORDING OF CONVERSATIONS WITHOUT CONSENT OF ALL

It is against the law in Illinois for a person to record a conversation between himself and another person or between other persons without their permission.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, state laws regulating the use of eavesdropping device forbid their use by anyone to hear or record all or any part of an

PKU Testing Effective

An Illinois PKU testing program, aimed at discovering potentially retarded children, has paid for itself many times over, according to State Public Health Director Dr. Franklin D. Yoder.

By a conservative estimate, it costs the state $100,000 to maintain a retarded child in an institution for his lifetime, Dr. Yoder said. By discovering potential retardees at birth and preventing retardation, the state saves the expense of institutionalizing them.

An Illinois law passed in 1965 made compulsory the testing of all newborns in the state for PKU. Comprehensive screening started in May of that year. Prior to that time, the department had initiated and sponsored screening programs in many hospitals and started extensive educational and service programs.

During the three years the testing has been carried on in the state, 14 of 300,000 newborn infants were found to have phenylketonuria (PKU), a metabolic defect that allows excess quantities of an amino acid to build up in the blood. If the infant is not placed on a restricted diet, the defect can result in severe, irreversible mental retardation, Dr. Yoder said.

"While the incidence of PKU is low, damage to untreated children is so high that neither the state nor parents can ignore it," Dr. Yoder said. "This is one instance where prevention is the best means of combating mental illness."

Employment Plan For H. S. Grads

Employment by the Illinois Division of Highways will be available this summer to 400 male high school graduates who do not intend to enter college next fall. Principals of high schools throughout the state have details of the employment program.

Half of the 400 candidates selected for employment under the program will take an engineering technical training course at the University of Illinois during the summer of 1967. Tuition will be paid by the Division of Highways. The others will be assigned to highway construction projects this summer and sent to the university for special studies in the summer of 1968.

Students and those assigned to construction projects will receive salaries of $350 a month at the start of the program. This will be increased to $400 a month after 11 weeks, which is when the first training course will be completed.

Applications of interested students should be received by District Engineers of the Division of Highways by March 20. The offices at which application should be made, are located in Chicago, Elgin, Ottawa, Paris, Peoria, Dixon, Effingham, Springfield, East St. Louis and Carbondale.

Once in a while it is well to forget that two and two make four, but don't do this during working hours.

oral conversation, conducted by telephone, in person or by other means, "without the consent of any party thereto."

In a recent suit, known as the Stickney Township case, it was argued that if one person agreed to the recording of his conversation with another person, the recording was legal and could be admitted as evidence in court.

However, the Illinois Supreme Court ruled the Eavesdropping Act prohibits the "bugging" or electronic eavesdropping of a conversation without the consent of ALL parties to it.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that wiretapping—the recording of a telephone conversation by wire tap—by a police officer is unconstitutional. Wiretapping by private persons is prohibited by the Federal Communications Act.

Under Illinois law, any person convicted of electronic eavesdropping may be fined up to $1,000; confined for a period not to exceed one year in a penal institution other than a penitentiary from one to two years,

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

MEDICARE'S EXTENDED CARE BENEFITS

On January 1, 1967 the extended care benefits of Medicare began for persons over 65. Although Social Security will only pay this benefit for older patients, the extended care facility (ECF) is available to all patients requiring skilled nursing care.

What is an "Extended Care Facility" and what will it provide?

An ECF is a new type of health care facility for the aged—something of a cross between a hospital and nursing home—that will accommodate patients who require less intensive care than that of a hospital, yet more intensive care than that of a nursing home on a relatively short term basis.

This new entity will provide these patients with skilled nursing care, and occupational, physical and speech therapy, plus other special services are needed.

To insure these services are of high quality—under the Medicare program—the ECF must meet stringent requirements of the law. Requirements such as: 24 hour skilled nursing care... medical supervision of each patient... an arrangement with a hospital for transfer of patients... and compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act which prohibits discrimination (to mention a few).

Anyone 65 or over is eligible for Medicare benefits in an ECF if they meet these conditions:

"The patient must be hospitalized for a minimum of three consecutive days.

"The patient must be admitted to an ECF on a doctor's orders within 14 days from the date of his hospital discharge.

"The patient must be admitted for further treatment of a condition for which he was hospitalized.

When these conditions are met, here's how Medicare helps to pay the bill:

"Medicare covers all services—including those of residents and interns-in-training of a teaching hospital which has a transfer agreement with the ECF. It will NOT, however, cover the payment for physician services, private duty nursing, nor the full cost of a private room if considered medically unnecessary.

"It covers a total of 100 days of extended care benefits for "each spell of illness." But a new "spell of illness" begins AFTER you have been out of an ECF at least 60 consecutive days.

"It pays the full cost of services furnished by an ECF for the first 20 days. You must pay $5 for the remaining 80 days.

PET THERAPY

Did you realize pets can be a valuable aid in the physical and mental treatment of patients?

That's right. Actually almost anything—including television—can cheer up patients. But dogs, cats, birds, monkeys, squirrels and even skunks are much more effective.

You see, the very fact that pets are "alive" can stimulate a patient's desire to live. And by providing companionship and a feeling of security (some even assume the role of guardian) they often help people actually get well.

Pets are particularly effective in the treatment of some mentally-ill children. In certain cases—where a child is deprived of love or somehow incapable of accepting an adult's love—he may be able to accept the affection of a pet. If he can, the pet becomes a very valuable tool of his treatment.

These are just some of the reasons why physicians often suggest "pet therapy."

Is one type of pet more therapeutic than another? That depends on the individual. Some patients, especially children, respond better to the affection found in dogs, mongrels in particular. Others need the intellectual challenge found in cats. Still others prefer

Township Government In Illinois

MEETING HEALTH AND WELFARE NEEDS: LOCAL, STATE OR FEDERAL?

This is the seventh in a series of articles relating to township government. This and a succeeding article examine the big issue of health and welfare in its national-to-local political environments.)

Local governments must play a vital role in serving the health and welfare needs of the people.

This is inescapable, because health and welfare requirements exist at local levels. Problems and needs start with individuals or family units in a community. Solutions can rarely be well administered from afar. Even broad programs relate to individuals, and require local coordination.

Certainly there are many, many ramifications to the health and welfare issue, which today is one of the most controversial in the socio-political arena.

It can readily be surmised that a root of difficulties surrounding this issue is money.

Money problems at the family level create welfare needs. Money problems at local governmental levels contribute to inadequate health care and attention, in many cases.

Money problems at local governmental levels make it difficult for health and welfare to be a completely local function.

The difficulty is that the state, government, and county, municipal, township and village governments within the state, have the powers to deal with basic problems relating to health and welfare, but the federal government has most of the revenue-raising ability through the income tax, and other revenue sources.

The federal government, with its "big program" planners, can tap sources of money through re-allocation of social security funds, by taxation or by going into debt. Except for taxation (which is more strongly resisted at local levels), local governments do not have access to funds which may be necessary for complete health and welfare programs.

The United States Congress has approved scores of programs related to health and welfare, many of which provide for federal grants to state, city and local governments.

Now what happens?

Do federal agencies move in and attempt to administer programs locally, overlapping local services? Do federal appointees take charge, instead of local elected officials?

Do special-interest groups try to grab the ball? Or does the most powerful governmental unit in the area—local, municipal or county—dominate the situation? Or does the combination of programs, agencies and scrambling turn into a confused, wasteful mess?

All governmental units in Illinois, from the state government on down, are concerned with this dilemma.

So are township governments. There is a good case for township governments to be a primary factor in the administration of health and welfare services in their communities.

Township governments are close to the people. They know local problems and needs. They are able to respond to local needs quickly and efficiently.

Also, a given township can perform functions on behalf of a cluster of villages, towns or cities within its boundaries. It has been calculated in one upstate township with a total population of about 150,000 in five villages, that a town health board and the services it would administer and provide, could be maintained at half the per capita tax rate than any of the five villages would assess.

In addition, township government generally is freer of political motivations, because of the direct responsibility to the people under which it operates. This is a favorable climate for health and welfare activities.

Township government in Illinois is fully authorized by the state constitution and by the legislature to function as a health and welfare service body. The township supervisor is administrator of welfare relief in his area. Townships employ welfare case workers who check local conditions and work with family welfare problems. Townships now appropriate funds for welfare relief and for the correction of health and sanitation problems.

Many Illinois townships are even more deeply involved. In many areas of the state, townships maintain full-time health officers and boards, and provide all the health services required locally. In some cases, counties are not at all involved. In others, such as in Cook, DuPage, and Lake counties, maintain health board services, with townships administering local services only.

However, with an increasing need to coordinate a variety of health programs at local levels, many townships which do not now have health boards are moving in this direction. They are encompassing health and welfare services, mental health, youth commissions to help combat juvenile delinquency, and service to senior citizens into local planning.

Working with cities and villages within their boundaries, township governments are well suited to coordinate such programs and bring about improvements in the administration of local health and welfare service.

Additional local needs then can be met as necessary. Because the people can exercise a voice in township programs, through town meetings and by their approval or disapproval of local officials at election time, local areas can obtain the amount of health and welfare service that fits their requirements, as judged by the people.

A report on current township activities, and plans for the immediate future, relating to health and welfare programs will be covered in the next article.

NIGHT BLINDNESS OFTEN CAN BE CURED

Do you find it extremely difficult to read road signs while driving at night?

Do the lights of oncoming cars practically blind you?

Do you have to wait 10-15 minutes before your vision adjusts in a dark room?

If so, you're probably among the 10 million Americans who suffer from night blindness.

Night blindness, medically known as nyctalopia (nye-tal-o-pi-a), is a condition in which the eyes do not readily adapt to dim light. Unfortunately, the afflicted are seldom aware of their condition. They think it's quite normal to experience trouble seeing in the dark. And, unless they find themselves on a long night drive or stumbling around in the dark, they don't find their condition too troublesome.

But night blindness can be a serious problem. In fact it's responsible for many home and auto accidents.

Is there any help for people afflicted with it?

There certainly is. Sometimes it can be cured as easily as a headache.

You see, the inability to see well in the dark is often a sign of vitamin A deficiency. Once the body receives an adequate amount of this vitamin, the impaired vision nearly always returns to normal.

The big problem is diagnosing it. An eye examination won't reveal night blindness, for it doesn't cause any noticeable changes in the eye. So unless a patient specifically complains about his weakened night vision, it usually goes undetected. Unfortunately, many cases go undetected. For few realize their vision—which may even be 20/20—is actually abnormal.

If you have trouble seeing at night, discuss the problem with your physician. By prescribing a diet rich in vitamin A or vitamin A supplement, he can help you safely regain your night vision.

Safety Comm. Urges Legislation For Highway Safety

Illinois had 5,590,000 licensed drivers in 1966, driving 4,930,000 registered vehicles 46,390,000,000 miles. 2,521 persons died on Illinois highways in 1966, compared with 2,256 in 1965.

The Lake County Safety Commission reports that during the first 10 months of 1966, there were 274,088 traffic accidents in Illinois, injuring 125,614 persons.

Motorcycle accidents claimed the lives of 86 persons during the first 10 months of 1966 compared with 63 during the same period in 1965.

359 pedestrians died during the first 10 months of 1966 compared with 272 in 1965 for the same period.

Traffic accidents cost the people of Illinois an estimated $453,000,000 in 1966.

The Lake County Safety Commission asks that Lake Countians contact their legislators, asking that highway safety legislation be given high priority.

GI's Welcome Mail Throughout The Year

Thousands of U. S. service men stationed in Vietnam would like to receive letters and gift packages from local folks at any time of the year, according to Omer Voss, volunteer chairman of Red Cross military service programs in the area.

"The GI's have received the thousands of letters, Christmas cards and gift packages that local folks sent in care of Red Cross personnel in Vietnam," Voss said, "and have asked us to tell everyone how much they enjoy the mail."

One Red Cross field director stationed with a unit in Vietnam wrote the Mid-America Chapter, "Mail from your area-to-servicemen in this area arrives daily, in bunches. It means a great deal to the GI's over here and I'm positive that at least 99% of the letters and packages are being acknowledged. The fellows are looking forward to more mail from the many fine people in your area, throughout the year."

Voss said the GI's are often just as lonely and homesick at other times of the year as at Christmas and mail from someone here can do wonders to perk up morale.

Packages and letters can be sent to an unspecified GI in Vietnam by mailing them to Red Cross personnel stationed with each unit. The mail is distributed to GI's at field stations, evacuation hospitals and at Red Cross recreation centers.

Each package or letter must be addressed to American Red Cross Field Director, followed by the name of the fighting unit, the APO number, and San Francisco Calif.

Red Cross field directors are stationed with the following U. S. Units in South Viet Nam:

Fourth Corps, APO 96215
All SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

Voss added that the boys in Vietnam welcome gifts of liquid insect repellent, lighter fluid, lighter flints, foot powder, cakes of shaving soap and shaving brushes, double-edge razors and blades, good ball point pens and refills. Also, plastic soap dishes, sturdy pocket combs, small sewing kits, small plastic bags, pictures, local news papers and all kinds of small puzzles and games that can be tucked inside a shirt or bag.

Less in demand, but still appreciated, are pre-sweetened powdered drinks and canned foods, such as cookies, sardines, oysters, hams and favorite fruits.

There's A Pattern To Highway Numbers

Honest, there is a logical order to numbering the nation's Interstate System of highways.

It's a system that requires some study, however, according to the Chicago Motor Club-AAA.

Interstate System numbers generally follow the same pattern as that of the U. S. Highways — odd numbered routes run north and south; even numbered routes run east and west.

Major routes have one-digit numbers with numbers for the longest roads ending in 5 or 0.

The lowest odd numbers are in the West, the highest in the East. I-5, for example, runs north and south along the West Coast from San Diego, Calif., to Bellingham, Wash. I-95 runs along the East Coast from Miami, Fla., to Houlton, Maine.

The lowest even-numbered routes are in the South and the highest in the North. I-10 extends from Santa Monica, Calif., to Jacksonville, Fla.; I-90 from Seattle, Wash., to Boston, Mass.

Interstate routes numbered in the hundreds are interstate belt (circumferential) routes around or loops through cities if the first figure is even. For instance, a belt section of I-94 (Illinois Toll Road) would be I-294. If the main route has belt routes in several cities within the state, the designation in those cities would be I-294, I-494, I-694, etc. However, two cities on I-94 in different states may have belt routes numbered I-294.

Interstate routes numbered in the hundreds that begin with an odd number are spur routes. The spur routes of I-94 would have an odd number preceding the main route designation, such as I-194 or I-394. These signs will be green rather than the normal red, white and blue markings of the Interstate System, and they will carry the words "Business Loop" or "Business Spur" on them.

TRAFFIC FATALITIES DOWN IN ILLINOIS

Traffic fatalities in Illinois from February 1 thru 15 totaled 73, according to provisional reports released by the Division of Highways and the State Highway Police. This is a decrease of 23 percent from the 95 traffic deaths reported during the same period a year ago.

Thirty-six persons died in 26 traffic accidents involving collisions between two or more vehicles.

An additional 37 fatalities occurred as the result of 34 accidents in which only the single vehicle was involved. Seventeen of those killed were pedestrians. The 20 who were drivers and passengers of the single vehicles involved included eight victims in six railroad grade

Seek To Wipe Out T.B.

Otto Bettag, M.D., Director of the DuPage County Sanatorium Board, Glen Ellyn, recently addressed the participants of the 19th Program Planning Seminar at Starved Rock State Park, Utica, Illinois.

The Illinois Conference of Tuberculosis Workers membership, which is made up of lay and professional TB workers, invited Dr. Bettag to tell the group about the TB problem in Illinois. Tuberculosis is the fifth cause of death in that country. The disease is so widespread that it would more than fill all of the beds in Chicago Hospitals, nursing and convalescent homes with active TB cases.

Dr. Bettag estimated that there are over 100,000 TB cases in Illinois and currently there are only 400 hospital beds available to care for these people. In addition, there is a real lack of case detection, available drugs, x-ray and clinic facilities.

Dr. Bettag is a member of a voluntary team known as the American-Haitian Tuberculosis Foundation, Inc., in the State of Illinois.

A drug firm, the Mallinckrodt Corp., is lending support to the work being done by this medical team from Illinois.

Plans are currently under way to build a new 150 bed TB hospital with 50 beds for women, 50 beds for men— and 50 beds for children.

Dr. Bettag indicated that from a comparative standpoint tuberculosis problems of this nature certainly warrant the support of all persons interested in the fight against this disease. Modern transportation has narrowed the distance of these once remote areas which means that TB will be a constant threat to states such as Illinois, if left unattended.

Film Series At Trinity Evan. For Lenten Season

Lent will be observed at Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church with a series of sound and color films to be shown at the church located at Valley Drive and Beck Road in Lindenhurst every Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The pastor, Rev. G. Albert Murphy will show these films, the first to be shown Sunday, Feb. 12.

The film, "The Last Supper" was the first of the series. This film took you to the Triumphant Entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, then into His teaching in the Temple and then carried you through the story of the institution of the Lord's Supper.

The second of the series will be shown February 19 at 7:30 p.m. This film entitled "Gethsemane" begins with the Last Supper and continues through to Jesus seized and led off by the ruffians.

The third film "Arrest and Trial" shown February 26 at 7:30 p.m. continues with the seizure of Jesus in the garden and ends with the second interrogation by Pilate.

The fourth film "Judgment and Crucifixion" shown March 5 will take you to the scene of the trial of Jesus and then to His crucifixion. You will hear His last words and then witness Jesus' death.

The fifth and final film of the series will be shown March 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the church. This film, "The Resurrection" will tell the story of the Resurrection from the sealing of the tomb of Jesus to His appearing to Thomas in the Upper Room.

The public is invited to attend the showing of these films.

Plans For April Cancer Crusade Include Education

As plans for launching its annual educational and fund-raising Crusade on April 1 were being developed today, the American Cancer Society announced that special emphasis would be centered on cancer's warning signals during 1967.

These simple warnings could mean cancer, often cancer when it is very early and most curable.

Dr. John J. Zannini, M.D., President of the Lake County Unit, A.C.S., declared that the decision to place "new and greater emphasis on the warning signals grew out of the fact that too many people do not know the early signs that could mean cancer. This, despite years of effort to make them common knowledge.

"People, in any large number, cannot name most of the warning signals," he said. "A study made last year showed that only 69 per cent of the people in the sampling could name one of the warnings. In 1955, it was 60 per cent and in 1948, 51 per cent.

"Thus, there was only a nine percentage point gain in knowledge of the warning signals in a period of more than eleven years."

Studies also show that when people are alert to the warning signals they tend to go to the doctor earlier.

Dr. Zannini cited other figures to show why the Society is concerned over the public's lack of awareness of the Cancer warnings. He said that the 1966 study showed that of those asked to write down any three of the seven warning signals, only 25 per cent named three; 25 per cent two; 19 per cent one and 31 per cent none.

"The warning signals of cancer are most important," Dr. Zannini said. "If one goes to his doctor when he is alerted by a signal, and if cancer is found, the chance of cure is greatly increased."

Plans for the April Crusade, he explained, call for every family in Lake County to receive a list of the warning signals, most of them to be distributed in person by volunteers. The list of warning signals will be designed so they can be detached and pasted in the family medicine cabinet.

For this and other work, the Society estimates that 5,000 volunteers will be needed in Lake County. Dr. Zannini expressed confidence that people will respond "because cancer is a problem that needs urgent attention."

The Society's 1967 Crusade theme will be "Guard those you love. Know cancer's warning signals. Give to the American Cancer Society."

Straight answers and full truths about electric heat

(for the people who plan to buy or build this year)

Frank answers about electric heat for those of you who are planning to spend 20 thousand dollars, or more, for a new home that you'll probably live in for the next 10 or 20 years. You owe it to yourself to investigate the many advantages of electric heat.

As a background, you should know there are 8 million people in the United States now living in electrically heated homes. Estimates indicate that this year 27% of homes being built will have electric heat. And, by 1970, over half of all new homes will be heated electrically.

Let's look into the why's and wherefore's.

Just how happily can you live with electric heat?

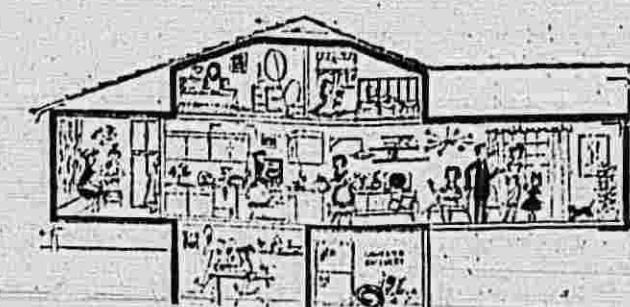

Properly installed, the comfort and convenience of electric heat far surpasses anything you've ever experienced before.

For example: you can step from your shower in the dead of winter and still feel warm. Baby can play on the floor when it's 20 below outside, and not be chilled. You'll even discover yourself cleaning less because electric heat is so dirt-free.

Proper installation assures comfort

Commonwealth Edison will be pleased to consult with your architect or contractor to assure that your electric heating system is designed for your house and installed in accordance with approved engineering standards.

Insulation should also be installed according to recommended standards: When an average six-room house is properly insulated at the time of construction, it will add less than 1% to the total cost. Good insulation will not only repay this investment in less than 4 years by cutting heat loss, but will add greatly to your comfort. And in the summer your home will be cooler, too.

Heavy black line indicates proper insulation.

With electric heat, you can pick the type of heat you want for your new home.

There are 5 basic types of flameless electric heating equipment. Depending on your heating requirements, one system can be used separately, or several may be teamed together:

If space is at a premium, or you want room-by-room temperature control, electric baseboard units or ceiling cable probably will work best:

The electric heat pump either heats or cools, depending on the outside temperature.

Electric central heating systems which use electrically-heated warm air or electrically-heated hot water are available in a variety of types to fit any need. They can be combined with electric central air-conditioning systems to provide year-round comfort.

Electric wall panel heaters provide radiant heat and are best suited for bath and dressing rooms or other areas where space is limited.

What about the cost of electric heat?

All things considered, electric heat will probably cost you somewhat more than gas heat. For example, you should expect to spend about $200 per year for electric heat in a properly insulated six-room house—or about $60 more than gas heat. This does not take into account maintenance and decorating savings with electric heat.

However, electric heat rates have steadily declined. Since 1958, Commonwealth Edison has reduced electric heat rates more than 50% and still further reductions are expected for the future.

Electric Heat is designed to outlast your mortgage (even if it's for 30 years).

After 15 years of operation, during which you would have little, if any, maintenance, look what has happened to your friend with gas heat. During this same 15 years, chances are he will have replaced his furnace (at $300)—paid out another $40 to run the pilot light 15 summers, and paid an additional $225 for furnace cleaning, maintenance, and a big supply of filters.

Electric heat's great for growing families, too.

How many of your friends have outgrown their homes a few short years after they bought them? They plan to add a room or two, and come face-to-face with the old bugaboo—heating the new area.

With gas, frequently they must buy a new and bigger furnace or settle for less-than-satisfactory space heaters. Not so with electric heat. You add as much heating capacity as you need to your new wing almost as simply and inexpensively as adding new wiring.

That's the story!

Anyone about to spend the money a house costs these days ought to know he's spending his money wisely.

We happen to think that your heating dollar will be far better invested in modern electric heat, and we've tried to show you why.

If you'd like more information about electric heat, please call our nearest office.

Fighting Sequoits Take Regional Crown

Nobody among the expert sportscasters picked the Antioch Sequoits to win the regional tournament. But the Sequoits ignored the predictions of the experts and topped the highly-ranked Prospect and Arlington teams to win the tournament.

It was the first time in the history of Antioch High School that the school has taken a Regional crown. To win it, the Sequoits first defeated Mundelein; beat Prospect, 51-47, then dumped Arlington, 60-53.

The victory brings the Antioch team up against North Chicago. North Chicago stunned unbeaten Waukegan Friday night 66-55.

We go to press before Wednesday night's game between the Sequoits and the Warhawks. If the Sequoits win Wednesday night, tickets will go on sale Thursday morning at Antioch High School for students only. Adult tickets will be sold between 4 and 7 p.m. Thursday at the school.

The winner of Wednesday night's game will play again Friday night at Arlington High School, against the winner of the Thursday night game between St. Patrick (with a 20-9 record) and Notre Dame of Niles with a 23-3 record.

Police Chief Jack Heick and a crowd of delighted Sequoit fans met the Antioch basketball team when they returned to the school gym last Friday night.

The Sequoits scored a victory over No. 1 seeded Prospect at the Palatine gym last Wednesday night to win a chance to face Arlington in the Regional finals Friday night.

The first quarter was a seesaw battle with the score tied several times. The quarter ended with Antioch leading 13-11.

Prospect jumped into a 19-15 lead in the second quarter. Bill Smith came off the bench to score two baskets and tie the score as the half ended.

Prospect grabbed the lead again as the second half started, 25-23. At this point the Sequoits took command and scored eight straight points to lead 31-25. The third quarter ended with Antioch leading 37-30.

In the first minute of the final stanza, Tyrone Walls hit two field goals and Don Zeman added two free throws to give the Sequoits a 13-point lead, 43-30.

Prospect surged back with nine straight points to make the score 43-39. A jumper by Empfield and three points by Prospect's Phillips brought the score to 45-42, with 3:20 to go.

Antioch started to play ball control at this point. A bucket by Prospect brought the score to 47-46 with 27 seconds left. With seven seconds left in the game, Empfield grabbed the rebound when a free throw was missed and scored a basket to give Antioch a three-point lead.

Walls lead the Sequoits with 16 points; followed close by Empfield with 14. Walls also lead the rebounding, with 12, while Empfield grabbed 8. The Sequoits controlled the boards, getting 35 rebounds to Prospect's 28.

Antioch shot 44% from the field and scored on 55% of their charity shots. Prospect hit on 41% of their field goals and 66% of their free throws.

"It was a real fine team effort," said Coach Roger Andrews. "Walls did a good all-around job and Whitson did an outstanding job on defense. He also played an important part on the offense with 10 assists."

ANTIOCH 60, ARLINGTON 53

The Antioch Sequoits won the school's first Regional crown when they defeated Arlington, 60-53, at Palatine High School last Friday.

Antioch went into the game the underdogs, with Arlington favored to win by all the experts.

Arlington started the game with a full court zone press. The Sequoits took an early lead, with Walls and Empfield both scoring three baskets to give Antioch an early lead. The Sequoits lead 16-15 at the end of the first quarter.

Arlington took the lead briefly early in the second quarter, and the teams traded baskets for a short time.

Then Walls hit on four straight free throws and Whitson scored to give Antioch a five-point lead.

Arlington managed to come within one point of the Sequoits, 33-32. Then free throws by Don Zeman and Steve Miklautsch and a basket by Empfield gave Antioch a five-point lead again. At the end of the third quarter, Antioch lead 39-34.

With about four minutes left to go in the fourth quarter, Arlington came within four points of the Sequoits, 48-44. "We called time out at this point," Coach Andrews said, "and went into our control game. We figured they'd get panicky, come out after us, and foul, which they did. Arlington had eight fouls in the final 3½ minutes and we cashed our free throws when it really counted. Walls hit four for four and Miklautsch five for seven. Empfield came through with a three-point play."

Walls lead the Sequoits again, with 26 points, with Empfield adding 17. Miklautsch scored 10.

Empfield lead the Sequoits in rebounding with 18, followed by Walls with 12 and Whitson with 8, plus 5 assists. Miklautsch grabbed 6 rebounds and had 6 assists to his credit.

The Sequoits shot 43% from the field and Arlington hit 37%. The Sequoits hit on 68% of their free throws while Arlington scored on 80%.

The Sequoits face North Chicago at the Arlington gym Wednesday night in the first game of the Sectional.

Get Easter Dinner At McHenry Shoot

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club will hold a Wild March Hare Shoot at their trap range on Sunday, March 12th, starting at 11 a.m.

As a prelude to Easter, tender, juicy young hams will be on the main prize list for winners. Blunderbuss bugs will be able to lay in a neat supply of this delicacy for the traditional holiday dinner. Since the club will be closed on Easter Sunday, this is a one-shot chance for the hams.

Aged JoPat steaks and young chickens will fill out the prize menu.

Shooting contests will include 10 and 25 bird practice rounds; single, double, triple and quintuple White Bird Shoots; to enable ordinary shooters to win from AA marksmen; Annie Oakley and Protection shoots for the fun type competitors.

At their last "Three for a Buck" chicken shoot, well over 100 five-man squads carried off some 300 chickens, plus an assortment of steaks and shooters components, in a shooting orgy, which, observers said looked like a fire sale in Macy's bargain basement, as shooters who broke only two or three targets were winning fryers as a reward for their lack of proficiency.

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club is on the west side of Pistakee Bay, where shells and hot refreshments are on tap in the warm club house all day. Trap chairman Wally Manz, Fox Lake, posted the March shooting schedule, as follows:

Sat. 11—Practice Shooting—1 to 4 p.m.

Sunday, 12—Wild March Hare Shoot—11 a.m. 'til dark

Mon., 13—Business Meeting—8 p.m.

Sat., 18—Practice Shooting—1 to 4 p.m.

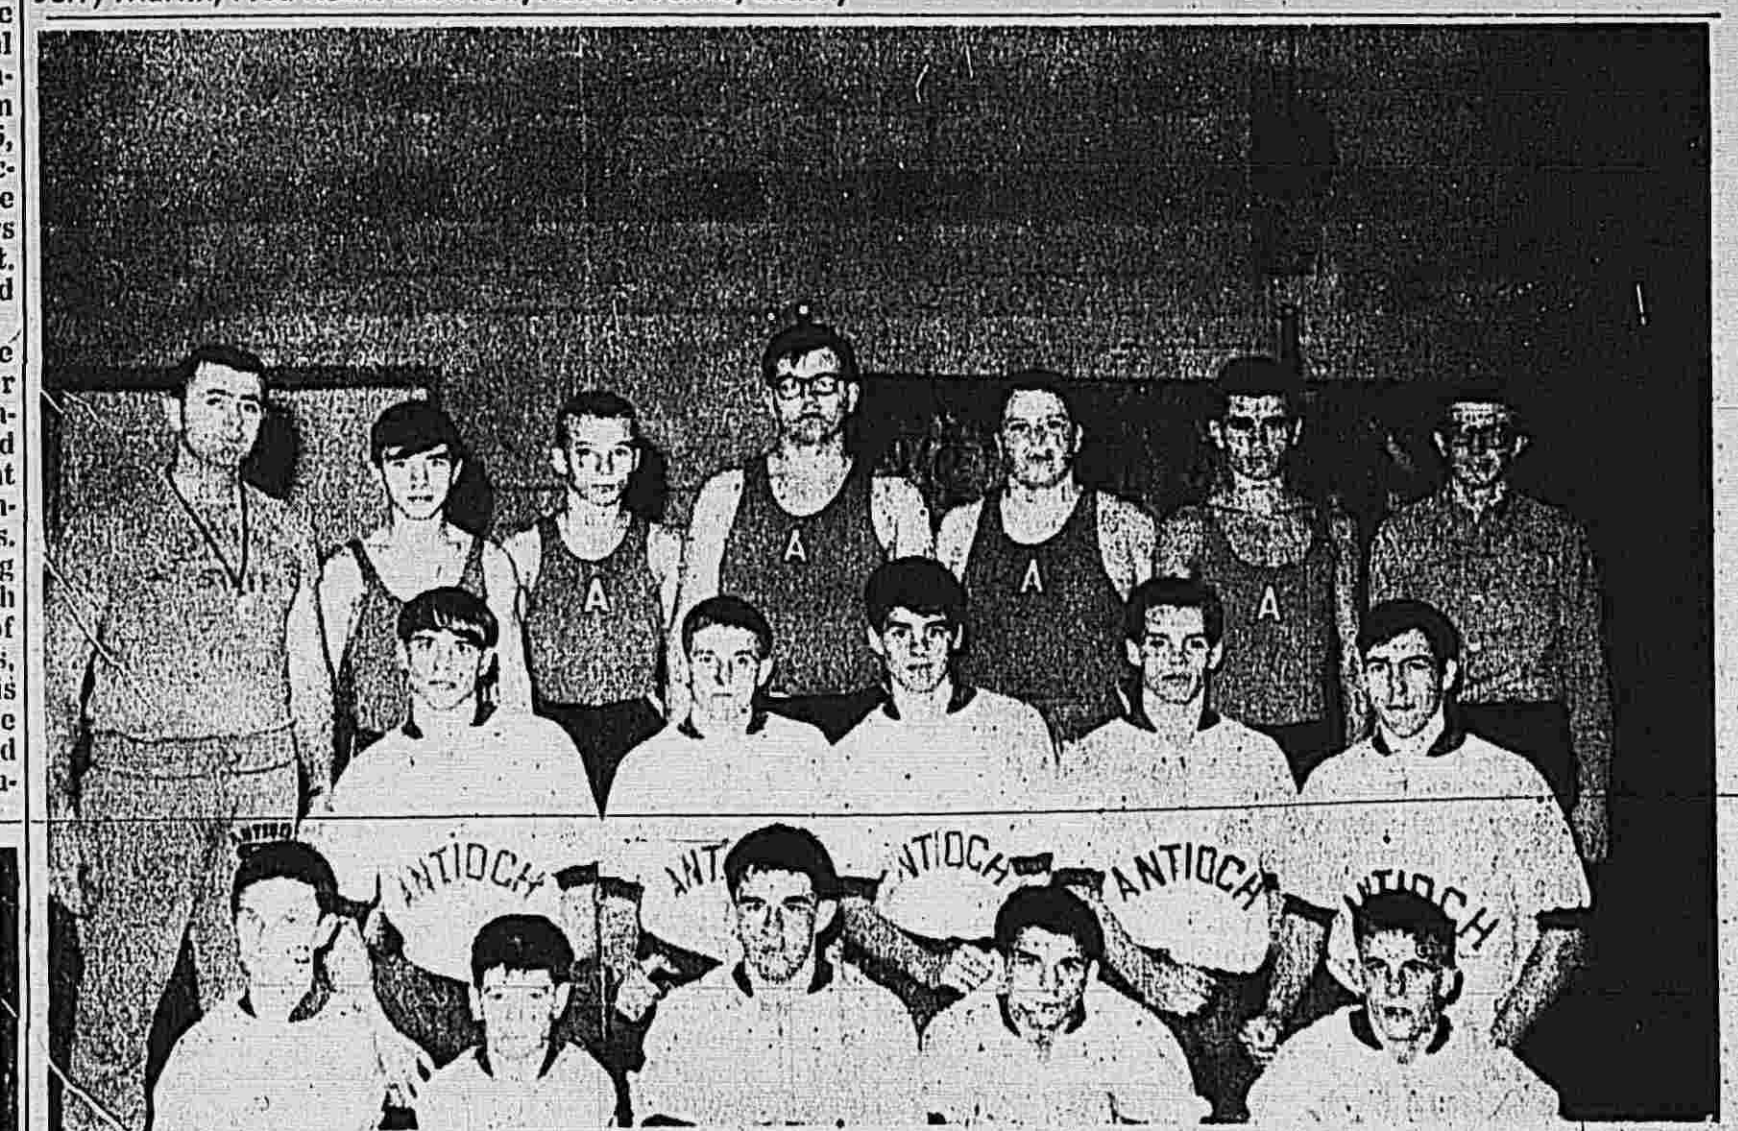

Sat., 25—Practice Shooting—1 to 4 p.m.

Sun., 26—Easter—Closed.

All prize and practice shoots are open to the public, on the same basis as to members.

Letter Tells Success Of AFS Program

Diana Maria Stagg, student from Ecuador attending Antioch High School, lives in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Lyons in Antioch.

When the American Field Service, Antioch Chapter gave a Valentine's Day party for Diana, Mr. and Mrs. Lyons were unable to be present. However, they wrote a letter to be read to all the people assembled to hear about the AFS program.

The letter was read aloud by the Lyons' daughter, Sally. The letter expresses so well both the problems and pleasures of taking a foreign student into your home, that the AFS has asked us to publish it.

Anyone who is considering the possibility of providing a home for a foreign student will find much of interest in the letter.

To the Members of the A.F.S. and to Our Guests:

The only good thing about our not being here tonight—and only a very special trip such as this we're on could keep us away—the only good thing is that we can speak our hearts more freely than we might be inclined to do in person.

And what we want to express to you is our very deep satisfaction and pleasure in having Diana in our home. Everybody has had the experience of offering a little and finding the small gift returned a hundred times over, and this is just such an experience. Where we offer a little space in our homes, the whole country of Ecuador is opened up to us through close acquaintance with its color and its problems and its fascinating history. And where we are prepared to befriend and tolerate a stranger in our midst, instead, we are met by a warm, loving girl with complete trust in us, a member of the family immediately and irresistibly.

I know that there are families here tonight and out in the community who have considered lightly the prospect of taking a foreign student and, remembering my own feelings, I know it seems at first an overwhelming prospect as the unknown is always formidable and then, upsetting the status-quo of your family always seems a somewhat frightening prospect. But a reasonably healthy household can profit by upsetting the status quo occasionally, and where the members have to stretch a little to accommodate, they strengthen considerably.

Now, since there are many more applications for a home than there are homes offered, the requirements are not so limited. In our home, Diana shares Sally's room and neither one has ever complained to me about it, though I don't see how either one can bear the clutter and the clutter. But each family offers only what it can. Diana has Ecuadorian friends in other homes, one using the private swimming pool and basking in all the luxuries and on the other hand, one girl wrote that she was very happy in a home where the resources were extremely limited. No one is misled about what to expect when you state the situation clearly on your application form. From our experience, I see no real necessity for a home with a high school student or even a home with children for that matter. There are advantages and disadvantages each way, and for a certain student somewhere your home might be the ideal spot. The most important requisite, as we see it, is this: that every member of the family must want this student to live with them for nine months. Otherwise, there is a possible source of friction. But where everyone approves the plan from the beginning, then almost any trouble can be surmounted. And when a bad fit does occur, it's really not the end of the world for anyone; a transfer is made very smoothly with no need for hard feelings, and Diana corresponds with three or four students who have made changes in their homes already this year.

We feel that a decade from now sending and receiving students from abroad will be very common. Here in Antioch we may have our own little United Nations representative group. It's such a simple, natural solution to the basic problems of world-wide understanding. What more ideal way is there for obtaining a really broad educational background? And can you imagine the far-reaching consequences in the area of international relations from this program? Consider at the moment the possible effects on today's situation if a number of now-red Chinese statesmen had been educated in American homes a decade or two ago. It's really about all most of us can do at the grass roots level—and I'm so glad and proud that Antioch students and the adult members of the A.F.S. have voluntarily done it.

But here and now is Diana, this very attractively packed, aged bit of Ecuador here in our midst, and with her we don't think much about international complications but just enjoy her humor and her noise and her music, and admire her good common sense and her loyalty. Though we are what we are here in the U. S. for better AND for worse, I know that when she goes back to Ecuador, a little of us goes with her for always.

1967 Income Tax Filing Period Is Here

Taxpayers are receiving notices through the mail that the 1967 filing period is under way, and time to file 1966 Federal income tax returns. The notices come in packages with 1040 or 1040A forms, instructions and schedules. The Illinois sales tax table and gasoline tax rates are included in the 1040 instruction pamphlet.

Director E. C. Coyle, Jr., of the Chicago District, explained the basic filing requirements. Every citizen or resident of the United States, whether an adult or minor, who had $600 or more gross income in 1966 is required to file a return. For taxpayers 65 or over a return is not required unless gross income was at least $1,200.

The tax forms mailed to taxpayers are not pre-addressed. Mr. Coyle asks that these forms be used for filing purposes and to watch these points:

1. NAME AND ADDRESS—Be sure you enter your name and address correctly. You may use your full (first, second and last) name this year if you desire. If your name differs from your Social Security card, contact your Social Security Administration office for correction. You need not wait for the correction to file your tax return. Your name and address should be printed or typewritten.

2. COPY YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER—exactly as it appears on your Social Security Card. If you do not have a Social Security Number, you should obtain one from your local Social Security Administration Office.

3. FILE EARLY—before the April 17 deadline. Taxpayers of the twenty-six counties of northern Illinois should file their returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue, 17 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60602.

Mr. Coyle urges you to get your information and records together and file as soon as you can. You are encouraged to prepare your own return. The Internal Revenue Service has helped ease your problem by preparing the instructional material, provided with the tax forms, that is easy to read and understand.

Various Government publications, notably the tax guides, will be available at all local Internal Revenue offices. The 1967 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax" consisting of 160 pages provides a complete explanation of the revenue laws as they apply to individuals. Copies may be purchased for 50c at Internal Revenue offices.

Telephone service will begin on January 3 and will be maintained through April 17. As in past years, a staff of experts will be assigned to provide tax information and

A dinner was served.

Men's Club Planning Outing

Plans for attending the June 4 auto races in Milwaukee were made at the Lindenhurst Men's Club meeting Thursday evening. Any man (who doesn't have to be a member of the club) who would like to go, must call Bob Bunkelman, 356-5039, by Friday, March 10, in order to reserve enough seats. There will be room on the bus for 40 men. So if your sport is racing, get your reservation in immediately.

Women's Club Meeting

The Lindenhurst Woman's Club will meet Thursday, March 9, at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center. Mrs. Rae Gibbons, president, invites all the ladies of the village to attend. A wig demonstration will be given by Pat Welch of Mundelein. This will be your chance to see how you would look in a different hair style.

Ladies having any 'junk' jewelry they would like to donate to be used in the treasure chest at the May dance, are asked to bring it. Also, donations of green stamps and prizes for the March 28 card party are needed.

Fifteen couples attended the Woman's Club Bowling party Feb. 25 at Sunset Lanes in Waukegan. Ted Flanagan and Mary Garcia had high series. They each received a bowling ball trophy. Bill Guzski and Sonja Lynch had high games. They were given bowling ball yoyos. Crying towels were given to Charles Lynch and Dolores Walsh when they had the lowest scores of the group.

After the games the group went to a private dining room and had sandwiches.

Sympathy Notes

Sincere sympathy is extended to the families of Mrs. Rose Scholastica and Mrs. Clarice (Rach) Young, who passed away last week.

Also, to Mrs. Agnes Wilhelm, on the passing of her sister, Cecilia Schaefer.

Condolences are sent to the family of Harry Traumer, Venetian Village.

Prince of Peace Church

The Prince of Peace Parish debt has been reduced $44,000 this past year. At the close of 1966 the debt was $63,000 and on December 31, 1966, it was $19,000. Three was a balance in the treasury of $6,222.65 in 1965. Total of all parish income during 1966 was $98,328.49. Expenses for the year were $98,441.54. Balance in the treasury on December 31, 1966 was $6,109.60.

Plans for expanding will be discussed at the Holy Name meeting Sunday, March 12, immediately after the 8 o'clock Mass. All men interested in the parish are asked to attend. An interest-advice. The service is individual, free from interruption and should prove helpful in the preparation of your return. Telephone service will be provided Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

For those taxpayers unable to resolve their tax problems by telephone, assistance may be obtained from local offices. The local office in this area is at 325 Washington St., Waukegan. The phone number is 244-6200.

It has been said that when an editor pleases everyone he will be neither sitting nor standing, and he will be in the midst of flowers.

Cover a cellulose sponge or steel wool scouring pad with a bright scrap of material to make a pincushion for your sewing basket.

Press an animal cookie cutter lightly into the frosting on a child's birthday cake, then fill the outside with tinted frosting for a different decoration.

ing speaker is scheduled.

Today, more than 20 million American youngsters belong to Junior Red Cross. And they're a warm and wonderful example of what the younger generation is coming to.

They help out in hospitals. They send gift boxes to children abroad. They aid disaster victims. It would take a book to tell all the good things they do with such willingness of heart.

Junior Red Cross provides them with an outlet where they can be of service to others. It helps them grow into the kind of citizens our nation will need so much tomorrow.

ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
SPORTS SPECTATOR TAKES SOME RISKS
The spectator assumes a certain degree of risk when he goes to a sports event where a puck or baseball or other object may come into the audience.
According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the liability of management for the safety of patrons at a sports arena is not a blanket one and depends upon the circumstances surrounding an injury to the spectator.
For example, the spectator who takes a seat at a hockey game knowing that the area is not protected by a screen and is in a place where pucks are likely to come, may be unable to collect damages if he is injured by one.
In this situation, the law might say that the spectator failed to exercise due care on his own behalf and that he assumed the risk of sitting where he was.
On the other hand, if the puck comes to an area where it would not be expected, an injured spectator would have another case. The spectator would argue that he had in no way contributed to his injury but had, in fact, done all in his power to protect himself against the normal and predictable hazards of the game.
The law is the same at a baseball game or any other spectator sport as it is at a hockey game, making allowances for differences in the game. If a spectator is struck by a baseball, liability may depend upon the degree of possibility or probability of being struck by an errant ball.
In certain instances, courts have found no one liable for damages to an injured party simply because no one was at fault. Thus, when a horse reared in its paddock, causing onlookers outside the fence to fall back in surprise, the court refused to hold management liable for injury to a man in the crowd since the horse had never been troublesome before.
AWARENESS OF PITFALLS KEY TO BROADER CREDIT
Personal bankruptcy cases will soar to new heights if the extension of credit to an ever-widening circle of users is not accompanied by an awareness of the pitfalls as well as the advantages of credit buying, the Illinois State Bar Association said today.
New credit plans, by combining the features of a traveler's checking account, check guarantee, check loan and credit card provide careful and responsible users with a highly useful tool, the ISBA observed, but, it added, "credit can be very damaging if it is not kept under control."
Mismanagement of one's personal finances, court records show, is more frequently the cause of bankruptcies than is sudden misfortune. In one Illinois county, where bankruptcies average one a day, most of the filings are by people who were the victims of their own poor handling of their fiscal affairs and of slack credit safeguards by lenders, the ISBA stated.
The state bar group publishes a pamphlet, entitled "Buying on Time," in which it offers these tips for keeping credit obligations within bounds:
Watch the total cost. Goods purchased on credit cost more. Take a look at all interest charges and other carrying charges or service charges before you decide to make the purchase.
Shop for the best terms. Interest charges vary. You may save money if you borrow from your bank or credit union and pay cash to the retail establishment.
Know what you are signing. A "receipt" may be a negotiable promissory note.

"Co-signing" a note may obligate you to pay for it. If you have any doubt about the effect of a document, consult your lawyer.

Read the fine print of anything you sign. Be sure names, dates and conditions are correct. Be sure everything is in writing in language clearly stating what you want. Inquire about conditions and items of importance to you.

Don't strain the budget. Commit yourself only to those credit installment payments which you can comfortably afford.

THERE ARE GRADE "A"

AND THERE ARE GRADE "A"

Not all Grade "A" eggs are alike. To be labeled Grade "A" eggs must meet certain minimum requirements.

There is many an egg that can be called Grade "A" that just never could be a Sunnybrook Egg.

Sunnybrook Eggs...they're our best. They have to be well above the minimum or they won't make the grade with us.

Break one in a pan, notice how proud the yolk sits up. That's the sign of a good egg...a fresh egg...a Sunnybrook Egg.

Try Sunnybrook. And if you ever find just one egg that doesn't measure up, we'll give you a dozen free. 12 for 1...that's pretty good odds.

Are Sunnybrook Eggs a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.
